Messages from Saint Thomas Aquinas

Doctor of the Church, Dominican Friar and Priest, 1225- 1274
through Veronica Lueken in Bayside and Flushing, NY

St. Thomas: "I have not come to add to the words of the Queen of Heaven. I, Thomas, say unto you that you will listen to the words of your God in Heaven.

The golden rule of the prophets of old must be followed. Satan has entered into the holy House of God. You will open your eyes to the truth now and stop him."

I see that the high priests of the House of God have become soft in their ways. They cater to their bodies and do not wish to sacrifice and make penance. There will be no easy road to the Kingdom. They will get down on their knees, and they will starve their worldly bodies until they rid themselves of the demons within them."

Veronica: "Saint Thomas has stepped back, and he is holding in his hand a large Bible. He is pointing to the Bible, and he says:

St. Thomas: "Receive ye the word of truth, and do not distort it in the Book."

Veronica: "Saint Thomas - oh! Oh, Saint Thomas has come forward. He has stepped now by Jesus. He is a shorter man than Jesus. He is quite heavy. And he's got a rope around his waist, and he has a Rosary now hanging very far down his waist. And his Rosary is a very dark brown color. Now he said:

St. Thomas: "You will go forth as disciples of truth. It will be the good souls who will hold back the darkness in the days ahead. You have behind you all the mysteries and the help of your God in these dark days. Many manifestations that cannot be understood by man will be given as your armor. Many manifestations will be given in secret. Those are just for workers and cannot be shared publicly.

You will understand in due time the plan of the Father."

St. Thomas: "You must say Aquinas, my child. Saint Thomas Aquinas."

Rigid discipline is necessary in the rule of all dedicated.

Discipline and obedience to the will of God and not the will of man must be restored upon earth. Your offenses against your God and your destruction of souls, leading more onto the path into darkness, have not passed unnoticed by the Father. You have received your warning."

Men of God in the House of God, turn back from your ways of satan! Recognize the hand of satan upon you. Starve your souls of the demons that you have allowed to enter upon you!

Return to discipline and the rule! You will not take our words and rewrite them to satisfy the desires of mere man! Have you placed yourself beyond the angels?

They, too, were cast from the Kingdom for their arrogance. Intellectual pride has led you down the wrong road. Many mitres will fall into hell."

Veronica: "Now I see over to the left side of the flagpole - Our Lady now is going over to the left side, and there are two men now standing with books in their hands. And I recognize Saint Thomas of Aquinas, Saint Robert Bellarmine. And now there's a young man coming forward. He's dressed - it looks almost like a choir boy's outfit. It's . . . I, I don't recognize his garments. They look like a priest, but he has a cape over his - the black garment. And now he's holding up a book, and it says, "The Book of Life".

Messages from Saint Thomas Aquinas

Veronica: “Now I see a man. There's a man coming down by the right side of the flagpole. Oh, I know it is Saint Thomas Aquinas. Oh, Saint Thomas is bending down, and he's carrying this large Book. I recognize it; it's the Bible. And Saint Thomas is saying:

St. Thomas:

“Confusion, delusion, misrepresentation.

Man must not rewrite under the direction of satan. Pray for the light. The words of the founding Fathers have always passed the test of time. Novelty in the House of God will bring darkness and open the door for entrance of the evil spirits. Return to the rules. This foolishness is bringing upon you the wrath of the Father.”

November 24, 1973, Eve of Christ the King

Veronica: “Now I see the sky is growing very bright behind Our Lady. And there is a man coming forward. He's carrying a very - he's dressed in a brown gown, and it's tied about the waist. And he has this cape over his head. He looks sort of like a monk. It's all - he's dressed all in brown. Now he's coming forward, and he's carrying . . . it's like a staff with a curve on the end of it. And he's holding a very large Book in his hand, in his right hand; the staff is in his left. Now he's looking over very sadly. His voice is very low. He is saying:

St. Thomas: “You see, my child, the sign of the Book and the staff. It has gone to the left. I carry the staff in my left hand for reason. You see the Book, my child. Watch, watch carefully.”

Veronica: “Oh, the Book that was formerly white is now turning a deep, deep, deep purple. Now it's going from purple to black. The cover has become black. Oh! Now the man - oh!”

Our Lady: “Recognize, My child, who you are talking with.”

Veronica: “Our Lady now is placing Her hand out, Her right hand, and there's a great light coming about the man who is holding the Book, the very darkened Book, and the staff. Oh, Our Lady, I know now. Oh, it's Saint Thomas. Oh! Now Saint Thomas is leaning forward.

St. Thomas: “My child, I wrote much about the errors of the times. Many will come and strengthen you in your work, for they will bring forward also the errors of the times.”

Veronica: “Now I see . . . now Saint Thomas is placing the Book out; it's just suspended in the air. And he's placing his hand forward, like this, as though he's saying no to the Book. No.”

And then he's pointing up to the heavens, and up above his head, and there's a great light coming down now. And I see a bird, a beautiful white bird. Oh, it's so beautiful. It's floating, it's not even flying. It's gliding down now. It's over the Book. And it's casting rays, like, the bird. It's - the rays are coming out from under the bird onto the Book. And there's a great - now it sounds like there's a deep, booming noise in the sky.”

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our Lord explains that purgatory is in hell. St. Thomas Aquinas, in his Summa Theologica, writes the same truth: “Therefore the fire of purgatory is the same as the fire of hell, and hence they are in the same place.” (App. 2 Q.1 Art. 2)
